(4) (amended - 14.05.2019) The minimum return shall be announced by the FSC by the end of each month following the reporting quarter.

(4) The amount of the funds in BGN to be transferred to the reserve shall be determined by multiplying the number of units in the general pension fund as of the last working day of the 24-month period by the difference between the value of one unit as of the last working day of the same period and the value of one unit as of the same period that reaches the higher of the two values under paragraph 1.

(5) The transfer of funds to the reserve increases the number of units in the reserve account and decreases the value per unit.

(6) The reduced value of a unit shall be determined as the ratio of the value of the net assets of the general pension fund at the date of setting aside of the reserve to the number of units in it after the setting aside of the reserve and shall be valid for the day on which the funds are transferred from the general pension fund to the reserve.

end of the business day preceding the last business day of the 24-month period and
 2. the difference between the value per unit at which the minimum return is reached and the value per unit on the last business day of the 24-month period.

(3) Covering the difference up to the minimum return with the resources from the general pension fund reserve is done by reducing the number of units in the reserve and increasing the value of one unit.

(4) The number of units by which the reserve account is reduced shall be determined as the ratio of the amount of funds to cover the shortfall to the minimum return to the value per unit at which it is reached.

Reserve of the pension assurance company

(New title - 05.05.2004)
